YANKS ADVANCE ON LONG FRONT

Prepare to Storm Defenses Surrounding Metz as Germans Take Stand on New Line.

U. S. FLYERS RAKE FOE

Bulgarians Attacked on Macedonian Front by French and Serbs—British Draw Nearer to St. Quentin—Foe Retreats in Flanders.

With the American Army in the Vosges, Sept. 17.—Artillery activity of an intensity to suggest a possible attack or an expected attack, occurred in the Vosges. It was accompanied by an extraordinary amount of signalling. Enemy airplanes were unusually active, 10 flew over St. Die and 20 over Gerardmer.

American Forces on the Lorraine Front, Sept. 17.—Aside from slightly increasing artillery activity the day has been largely devoted to patrolling by both sides.

The Germans seemingly are holding the Hindenburg line, from which they are sending out patrols, while the Americans and French encamped a few miles on this side, continue to feel out the line by the same method.

German infantry has been observed consolidating positions at La Chaussee as if in preparation for a counter attack, but none so far has developed. Near this point the enemy is occupying shell holes.

The German artillery fire is limited chiefly to guns of the 77- and 105-millimeter caliber, but many of the shells are "duds."

The Germans also are active in constructing machine gun nests at various points of the line.

London, Sept. 17.—On the Macedonian front the Allied troops have assumed the offensive. Reorganized Serbian forces, aided by French units, are attacking Bulgarian positions in the mountains on the Serbo-Greek border east of Monastir.

Three important hill positions which had withstood Allied efforts through several years, already have fallen to the Serbs and the French. The heights are Sokol, Dobro Polje and Teak Vrenik. Sokol is 20 miles east of Monastir. The captured positions are about midway between the Cerna and Vardar rivers and command the upper course of the Cerna after it makes a wide curve southeast of Monastir. Several hundred prisoners have been taken in the advance, which continues.

French and British Advance. Meanwhile the French and British troops on the main battlefield in France continue their progress.

Between the Oise and the Aisne the French are pressing on. North of the Aisne they have taken the town of Vailly and nearer the Chemin des Dames have stormed Mount des Singes, an important hill position. Astride the Scarpe the British have pushed forward new posts, while along the Ypres-Comines canal, southeast of Ypres, they have advanced on a front of two miles. West of Cambrai and around St. Quentin the activity has died down after the British capture of Maissemy.

U. S. Planes and Guns Busy. The aerial and artillery arms have been active on the new American front southwest of Metz. The enemy guns have been hammering the American lines, but no infantry attacks have developed. Allied aviators have bombed railroad centers and other military targets in the Metz area, while enemy airmen have bombed some places within the American lines, including St. Mihiel.

Danes Don't Expect Overtures.

Copenhagen, Sept. 17.—The Austrian note has created a great stir in Denmark, but it is not believed that it will lead to real peace overtures. Living Cost Will Be Probed. Washington, Sept. 17.—Investigation of the cost of living by the Department of Labor, already under way in New York and Baltimore, soon will be extended to the principal industrial centers over the country, it was announced. The result of the investigation will be used for a basis for wage adjustment in all war industries. Housewives will be asked for statement of expenses for the past year and also to keep an accurate record of expenses for a given month and report to the department.

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 17.—An estimate of seven billion, three hundred and forty seven million, seven hundred and twenty-seven thousand, six hundred and two dollars and thirty-two cents to carry out the new enlarged army program under the eighteen to forty-five draft law was submitted to congress by the war department today.

Serbian Offensive Continues with Success

(By United Press)

London, Sept. 17.—The Serbian offensive continues with complete success says an official announcement. The Bulgarian front has now been pierced to a depth of more than five miles on a twelve mile front. More than three thousand prisoners and twenty guns have been taken. The French and Serbian casualties are small.

Air Fighting Unusually Fierce

BY FRED S. FERGUSON, (Staff Correspondent, United Press)

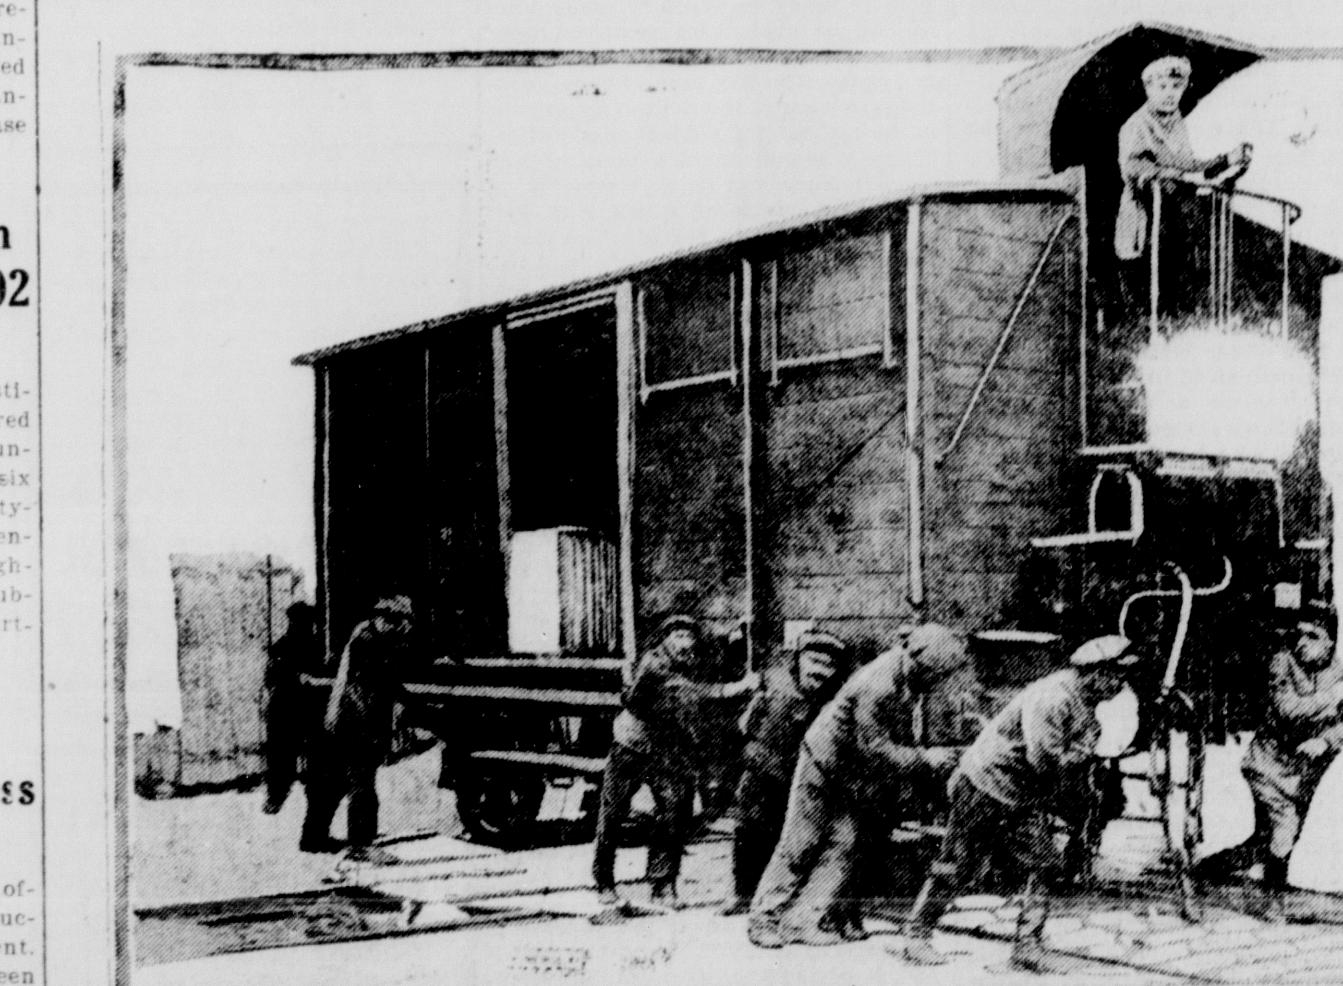

With the Americans on the Metz Front, Sept. 17.—Fighting near the Hindenburg line has largely been transferred from the ground to the air. Concentrating between the Meuse and the Moselle of air fighters of all types has resulted in constant air duels. Numerous boche machines have been brought down. The Germans are confined practically behind their own lines. Meantime, Americans, French and British are conducting day and night bombing raids. The Americans made nine bombing trips yesterday.

Powder Mill Explodes At Birmingham, Ala.

(By United Press)

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 17.—An explosion believed to be in the Actna powder plant eight miles south of here shook the buildings on the outskirts of the city shortly after noon. The black smoke was visible this distance.

They Move a French "Side-Door Pullman" by Hand

The French freight car, the kind of car known in the United States by men who travel on them as a "side-door Pullman," is a very little thing in comparison with the American article. It is the kind of freight car the American soldiers in France are using, and this photograph shows some of them pushing one. This one is going from the Y. M. C. A. storehouse to the front loaded with good things that organization has provided for the soldiers.

BY FRED S. FERGUSON, (Staff Correspondent, United Press)

With the Americans on the Metz Front, Sept. 17.—There is gradual progress being made by the Americans at the right and left extremities as the Germans fall back to the Metz defenses. The aerial activity is somewhat reduced as the result of unfavorable weather. The principal advance is being made between the Mad and Moselle rivers.

Greek Troops Advance About Three Miles On 19 Mile Front

(By United Press)

Athens, Sept. 17.—Greek troops have advanced from two to three miles on a nineteen mile front in the Struma sector between the Vardar sector and Lake Dardan, capturing several villages. The attack was a complete surprise. The Bulgarian losses were heavy, the Greek losses only 12.

New York City, Sept. 17.—Admitting he killed his wife, but declaring he had no recollection of the deed, according to the police, Charles E. Chapin, city editor of the New York Evening World, walked into the west sixtieth street police station today and gave himself up. He declared all memory of the crime passed from him until he bought a morning paper and saw the police were searching for him. He killed his wife in the Cumberland hotel for no apparent reason.

President Wilson Promptly Rejects Invitation for Peace Conference.

ABSOLUTISM MUST END

Secretary Lansing Issues Authorized Statement That America Has Precisely Stated Only Terms That Are Acceptable.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Germany's peace feeler has been unconditionally rejected by the United States. In doing so the government has spoken for all the co-belligerents. Almost immediately after receiving the Austrian government's note from the minister from Sweden, Mr. Ekengren, Secretary Lansing issued this formal statement:

"I am authorized by the President to state that the following will be the reply of this government to the Austro-Hungarian note proposing an unofficial conference of belligerents:

"The government of the United States feels that there is only one reply which it can make to the suggestion of the imperial Austro-Hungarian government. It has repeatedly and with entire candor stated the terms upon which the United States would consider peace, and can and will entertain no proposal for a conference upon a matter concerning which it has made its position and purpose so plain."

Mr. Lansing's statement was given out within half an hour after he had received the Austrian proposal. It would have been forthcoming almost immediately on the receipt of the Austrian note, if it had not been necessary, to avoid the possibility of grave errors, to make a careful comparison between the official text and that which was received in news dispatches from Amsterdam.

Thus emphasis was added to the declination if any were needed, the quickness of the reply indicating the existence of no shadow of doubt in the mind of the Administration as to what it should be. As soon as Mr. Lansing's reply can be put into form it will be handed to the Swedish minister for transmission to Austria.

There is some reason to believe that the secretary acted with this unprecedented promptness in a matter of such importance, with the decision not only to indicate clearly the position of the United States government, but perhaps to anticipate and prevent, so far as possible, newspaper discussions of the Austrian proposition which might convey to the enemy a misleading impression that there was any considerable element in the United States willing to consider a negotiated peace, such as the "non-binding" discussions proposed by Austria might develop.

Also, it is understood, there was a purpose to sound the note which the Allied powers might repeat in their own answer. All these powers had gone on record formally as accepting the condition of peace laid down by President Wilson as their own.

While no reference to it was made in the reply which the United States government is making to Austria, it is known that one of the most objectionable features of Baron Burian's proposal was the secrecy suggested for the "non-binding" conference.

It was realized by officials here that the purpose was to barter away the rights of various nationalities in the vicarious proceedings so that the fate would have no knowledge of their fate until it was beyond recall. This system of barter was particularly denounced by President Wilson in one of his speeches.

MOVIE STARS BOOST LOAN

Thirty-five Actors Donate Film to the Government.

Washington, Sept. 17.—A million and a half feet of highly paid movie talent will be shown in the nation's forthcoming appeal for Liberty Loan billions. Thirty-five stars have produced a film for the government at their own expense.

It is figured the scenery alone for these pictures cost $125,000, and estimating the time spent in salaries paid the stars a million dollars more was contributed, loan officials declared.

The editorial compares the kaiser's peace offensive to the action of German machine gun crews in the Veste fighting when they fought and killed Americans until they were surrounded, then shouted "Kamerad."

Two Airmen Are Killed.

New York, Sept. 17.—Lieut. Charles Kinney, Jr., of Covington, Ky., and H. Austin of Boston were killed when an army airplane from the Mineola aviation field crashed to earth in the Flatbush section of Brooklyn. Hundreds of persons who saw the machine "go dead" as it was flying low over trees and houses witnessed its plunge into the backyard of a residence. The airplane was demolished. Doctors who were summoned found both occupants dead.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Women by the thousands are responding to the appeal of employers to take the place of men entering the army and to fill new positions created by industrial expansion, according to the monthly business review of the Federal Reserve Board.

The review shows that women are spending more of their new earnings for clothing. Retail dealers in all cities where many women recently have left their homes to work elsewhere report booming business.

POSSIBILITIES OF AN ACRE

So far as is known, no one has been able to make it work to the limit of its powers.

Does anyone know the possibilities of an acre of land? Has an acre of soil, like the machine, its limitations? Who is ready to say how many tons of hay or bushels of grain an acre can produce? So far, we do not know of anyone who has been able to make the acre work to the limit of its powers or to fathom its hidden possibilities. There is bound up in a lump of soil much history and many mysteries of the world, much of which man has never been able to unfold. Too many farmers have treated their soil as though it were uninteresting and not full of charm and fascination.

In the book entitled "Letters of an Old Farmer to His Son," we came across these paragraphs: "That's what I like in the soil. Though we've been working with it through unnumbered thousands of years, no man since the beginning has ever found the limitations of a single square rod. In the very nature of things, no man will ever discover the utmost end of the soil's power when to its own fertility he adds a fertile mind." Yes, it is the trained mind that comprehends the charm and wonders of the land; it is the fertile brain that looks forward to the possibilities of the soil and can see its powers strengthen as the comprehension of man broadens.

We quote again from this book: "An acre of land is pretty much like the heart of a good friend. It is an everlasting challenge to you to show the best that's in you; it's everlasting richness in surprises for you. It's an everlasting invitation to you to do with it what you will and to take from it as you need; and there's everlasting certainty that it holds great treasures always in reserve for you. He must be a man of little understanding who will dare to say that he has exhausted all knowledge of the potent secrets of the merest handful of earth.

Look to Africa for Food.

The world-wide shortage of food and the certainty that this shortage will continue in modified form for years to come has roused France to utilize more fully her great colonies just across the Mediterranean. Comprehensive plans are being formed—and started on the way to fulfillment—for refrigerating and packing plants in Algeria, so that the animals need not be shipped across the sea alive. These institutions, too, will give a much readier and steadier market than has been available hitherto, and that is probably all that is needed to quadruple the meat exports of North Africa.

MADE THE CHAIN COMPLETE

Physician in His Excitement Rather Gave Away Secret He Should Have Kept.

Attorney General Gregory tells this piquant story of a prominent financier and a well-known physician:

The money juggler called at the office of his family physician one morning and told him with much concern that his only son was suffering from diphtheria. The doctor was solicitous but assured the financier that with the care given in the hospital to which the boy had been taken he would pull through nicely. "Of course," said the medico, "no one is safe when that terrible disease is around."

"But," said the father, "the boy confided to me that he is sure he caught the disease from the parlor maid whom he had kissed."

"Well, young people are certainly very thoughtless," mused the doctor, "I'm sorry to hear that your son has been so indiscreet."

"Yes, of course, doctor," said the financier, nervously, "but don't you see, to be frank with you—I have kissed the girl. Do you think I, too, will have the disease?"

"Why, yes," said the doctor. "You are probably already infected. In fact, that would be the very next thing to expect."

"Oh, that's awful," gasped the financier, "and I kiss my own dear wife every morning and evening, so she, too."

"Good heavens!" cried the physician, jumping up excitedly, "then I, too, will have it!"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Progress has been made in the curtailment of nonessential credit, the board reports. There are, however, certain elements which have refused to subordinate their private interests to those of the nation. These must be whipped into line if that part of the nation's resources is to become entirely free for uses, the government says.

NOT MARK OF DISRESPECT

Omission of "Mr." Before Name of President Is Thoroughly Sanctified by Good Usage.

A Kansas City teacher asks the Star whether it is really in good taste to refer to the president in a headline or elsewhere as "Wilson." Ought it not always be "Mr. Wilson" or "President Wilson?" she asks. It has jarred her in reading the news to pupils to find the president's name used without a handle.

Hard and fast rules in matters of good taste are difficult to establish. In general the title is appropriately used with the president's name; in general, but not always. The omission of the title is not disrespectful; on the contrary, the more distinguished the man, the more the omission of the title is sanctioned by good usage. We speak of Webster, Calhoun, Lincoln, Gladstone habitually without the "Mr." So with living men. Isn't it more often "Edison" than "Mr. Edison," "Bergson" than "M. Bergson," "Kipling" than "Mr. Kipling," "Lloyd George" than "Mr. Lloyd George," "Poincaré" than "M. Poincaré," "Kerensky" than "Mr. Kerensky?"

When reference is made to a well-known man by his name without title or even initials, there is an implied compliment. The implication is that there is only one Lloyd George, only one Clemenceau, only one Wilson.

Whether the title is used or not depends largely on what seems to be the requirements of the occasion.—Kansas City Times.

U. S. CASUALTIES NOW 30,825

Four Killed in Action and 99 Wounded, Last List Shows.

Washington, Sept. 17.—One hundred and seventy-eight casualties in the American Expeditionary Forces have been reported to the war department by General J. J. Pershing, bringing America's war losses to 30,825.

The American commander reported four men had been killed in action and 99 wounded.

Other casualties reported were:

Died of wounds, 7; died of disease, 1; died from accident and other causes, 2; missing in action, 65.

Northwest names appear as follows:

GETTING READY FOR BIG MOVES

Allies Will Answer Enemy Peace Offensive With Some Hard Blows.

PLANS ARE UNKNOWN

Americans Are Expected to Aim at Isolating Metz Fortress, British to Capture Cambrai and French to Take Laon.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Military officials here are momentarily expecting another blow against the German lines as an answer to the peace proposal of the Central powers.

The point of the expected attack is a matter of wide speculation. Several simultaneous attacks will be delivered, it is thought, with the Flanders front, the French operations about La Fere directed at Laon, and the new American front across the mouth of the old St. Mihel salient as the logical positions from which Marshal Foch would strike.

It has been significant to some officials that the British have not pressed very heavily on the front between Ypres and Douai. North of Ypres there has been only minor operation by the Belgians since the Allied counter-offensive began.

British Blow Expected.

British attention has been concentrated to a large extent on clearing up to the Douai-Cambrai-St. Quentin front and many observers here believe the lines have been straightened out sufficiently along this sector now for a movement. It has been noted, however, that British artillery has been pounding the German lines west of Cambrai with special vigor recently which may be the prelude to a direct drive for the capture of that city.

Since the French are slowly making their way to a flanking position, which would force the Germans to withdraw from Chemin des Dames lines protecting Laon, some officers believe a new movement along the Aisne and probably extending to the east of Rethme is to be anticipated. It is pointed out that should the Germans be forced to withdraw from the Chemin des Dames, a swift advance from the Rethme front would tend to outflank the whole enemy line from that point to Vervins.

There is no information of an official character as to General Pershing's present operations. The greatest reticence apparently is being enforced on press correspondents in discussing the tactical disposition of the American army at this time and to observers here this suggests that preparations for a new advance are well under way.

May Try for Metz.

The logical objective, it is held, would be the occupation of the Brie iron fields and an effort to encircle Metz from the west. If General Pershing is moving toward that goal now, it is said a joint attack by his army and the French army holding the Verdun front would be a probable development. Such an action would be over a very extended front, however, and some further reconnaissance of the enemy's positions on the immediate American front may be necessary before it can be undertaken.

Attorney General Gregory tells this piquant story of a prominent financier and a well-known physician:

The money juggler called at the office of his family physician one morning and told him with much concern that his only son was suffering from diphtheria. The doctor was solicitous but assured the financier that with the care given in the hospital to which the boy had been taken he would pull through nicely. "Of course," said the medico, "no one is safe when that terrible disease is around."

"But," said the father, "the boy confided to me that he is sure he caught the disease from the parlor maid whom he had kissed."

"Well, young people are certainly very thoughtless," mused the doctor, "I'm sorry to hear that your son has been so indiscreet."

"Yes, of course, doctor," said the financier, nervously, "but don't you see, to be frank with you—I have kissed the girl. Do you think I, too, will have the disease?"

"Why, yes," said the doctor. "You are probably already infected. In fact, that would be the very next thing to expect."

"Oh, that's awful," gasped the financier, "and I kiss my own dear wife every morning and evening, so she, too."

"Good heavens!" cried the physician, jumping up excitedly, "then I, too, will have it!"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

OUR BOYS AND YOU

You know the Liberty Loan is to back up our boys over there, of course?

How about it?

We have seen these boys march in civilian clothes to the trains that were to take them to camp.

We have seen them march away in the uniform of the national guard.

We have seen them, as volunteers, drift out of town by twos and threes and groups, heading for the mobilization barracks.

We have not seen them, but we have followed them in spirit, as they toiled through their training in camp. We have followed them in spirit when they moved from the training camp to the Atlantic coast camp where the last touches were put on their training. We have followed them in spirit as they marched quietly abroad the transports that slipped silently out of "an Atlantic port" and joined the convoys. We have followed them in spirit—and with our prayers—as they passed through the grim, tense watches of the submarine zone.

We have followed them with pride as they marched down and through the streets of London or Paris—splendid, upstanding, America's noblest exhibit.

We have followed them again when in the camps over there, they went through the short senior class of their military education.

We cheered them at Cantigny and Chateau Thierry, when they proved their mettle and showed themselves to be easily a match for the Boche.

Now there is a real American army in the field, led by an American commander, fighting in American ways a major action in this war that may have the mightiest consequences.

And now, with those boys of ours fighting over there for America, for democracy, for the rule of decency in this world, for an end to war, we back home in America are confronted with a chance to help them by more than mere good will and empty lip service. The Fourth Liberty Loan offers that opportunity.

What are we going to do about it? What are we to do about it as a nation, and as individuals? Is there more than one thing we CAN do about it? Can we do otherwise than strive to do our share as these boys are doing theirs—to the LIMIT? Shall we withhold our dollars when they do not withhold their lives? Dare we shun sacrifice of luxuries and pleasures and comforts when they do not shun hardships and dangers or even death itself?

Your answer to the call of the Fourth Liberty Loan will be YOUR answer to these questions.—Duluth Herald.

LOYALTY AND NATIONALITIES

Loyalty to America is no longer confined to certain nationalities. The "melting pot" is working as never before.

People of every race and creed and political faith are standing shoulder to shoulder "over there" and here at home.

This last Third Liberty Loan has proved this. People of German, Austrian, Turkish and every other birth have loaned their money to Uncle Sam, have become stockholders in the world's greatest corporation.

In some cases, undoubtedly, this was done through fear or as a matter of agent at point of origin.

In very many more cases, in fact, in the great majority of cases, these subscriptions were the result of a better understanding, an awakened patriotism, a realization of the truth.

German communities of the Ninth district are among the leaders in amounts subscribed and in the percentage of distribution.

All honor to those who gave gladly, even though it hurt to give.

22 YEARS IN SAND

The Cass Lake Times may be pardoned for giving way to joyful feelings and running a boxed story at the head of the front page marked "Hooray! Hooray! Hooray!" and giving the welcome information that the long-looked-for pavement has at last been started.

"Yes, we know we are making a lot of noise about it, but everyone who has waded in the sand for twenty years and sees the good work started is feeling the same way. Anyway, Hooray!"

It pays to have sand in a person's makeup, but it's duced hard stuff to make time hauling country produce to market or running your Ford in it. Cutting out the sand streets in any town is a public investment which marks the progressiveness of a town and contributes to its public spirit and standing. Brainerd has some of these sandy streets too and it is hoped they may soon become extinct.

A NEW ROLL OF HONOR

The Royalton Banner runs a new kind of an honor column. It embraces a list of those paying up their subscriptions. A paid up subscription list is what Uncle Sam wants every newspaper to have. It means general satisfaction for the publisher, in fact, everyone connected with the production and distribution and reading of the paper.

BITING IN GRANITE?

A short time ago one Hun chanceller made the statement "He who tries to separate the German people from their kaiser bites on granite".

Judging from the success of "our boys over there" and the resultant maneuvers of said kaiser, we make a guess that in Germany "granite" is a camouflage name for ice cream.

CONGESTION IS ACUTE

Rail Embargo Placed on Grain to Western Markets.

Order Affects Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Chicago, Milwaukee and Other Points.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The regional directors of the railway administration, owing to the fact that grain is piling up so rapidly at Western terminal markets, have issued an embargo notice against further shipments of grain to several points effective Sept. 18.

"Because of rapid approach to limit of grain storage," the order says, "it becomes necessary to place embargo against all shipments of all grain consigned or reconsigned to Minneapolis, Duluth, St. Paul, Kansas City, St. Louis, St. Joseph, Omaha, Council Bluffs, Milwaukee and Chicago, and to regulate future shipments of grain to these markets on permit basis, such permits to be issued in co-operation with the Food administration. Application may be made by shipper or agent at point of origin.

"Such requests transmitted to designated grain control committee of each market, which shall approve such requests as can be given storage, notifying the agent at point of origin that shipment may be made accordingly."

Joint Regulation of Grain Traffic. Washington, Sept. 17.—Railroad grain shipments hereafter will be regulated jointly by the Railroad and Food administrations through a system in solving issuing of permits by committees in different grain zones. The step was taken to prevent over loading of storage facilities at primary markets and seaboard terminals congested by the tremendous flow of grain this year, stimulated by an abundant crop and stable prices.

GERMAN PAPERS SURPRISED

Amsterdam, Sept. 17.—The peace initiative should have been left to the Allies, according to the Tages Zeitung.

Barber Shop on Italian Battle Front

Mail-Age News Bureau, Cleves, Germany.

Men who have patronized the barber shops of trans-continental fliers on American railways probably feel that they have experienced about all the thrills they care for in a barber shop, but what would they think of having a shave or a hair cut in a barber chair just back of the fighting line and protected only by a thin camouflage? But the boys on the fighting line have to have hair cuts and shaves and have to be neat and trim for inspection; so the Italian General Staff Photographer gives us a view of one of the Italian soldiers "dressing up."

FIRST NATIONAL BANK INCREASES CAPITAL

Stockholders Monday Unanimously
Vote to Increase Stock from $50,000 to $100,000

BUSINESS LARGELY INCREASING

Is One of the Largest Banks Outside of the Twin Cities and Duluth.

Established in 1821

One of the most important financial events of Brainerd was recorded Monday when the stockholders of the First National bank of Brainerd voted unanimously to increase the capital stock from $50,000 to $100,000 and so highly prized is the stock of this institution that each stockholder took the entire amount to which he was entitled.

The increase was effected by transfer of the present undivided profits and the paying in of $25,000 new money by the stockholders. This action has been under consideration for some time by the officers in order to fully care for the ever increasing business of the bank and to properly serve the city and county and care for the needs of its many customers extending from the bank in all directions, some living even in distant states.

largest banks of the state outside the Twin Cities and Duluth.

The First National bank was established in 1881 and has made continuous progress during all these years. Its deposits are now considerably over one and one quarter million dollars. It is the oldest bank in Crow Wing county and it is by far the largest in this part of the state and with the added capital it makes added responsibility of the stockholders, consequently added security for the depositors.

During the past two years it has completely remodeled its quarters and now occupies one of the handsomest buildings of the state and its interior equipment is all that is to be found in any of the most up to date banking institutions of the country.

It is the purpose of the bank to not only pursue its careful, conservative policy of the past, but to more thoroughly impress its broad progressive views and endeavors to meet the financial needs and help greatly in the upbuilding of Brainerd and Crow Wing county and with this slogan, "It is Old. It is Strong. It is Safe," it cordially invites you and your friends to make the greatest use of the facilities of a modern bank.

SURPRISE MINISTER

Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Clemens were Presented with a Purse on Monday Evening

A pleasant surprise was given Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Clemens at the parsonage of the Swedish Bethany church on Monday evening, Sept. 16, by about 60 friends and members of the church. The evening was pleasantly spent in music and conversation and Rev. and Mrs. Clemens were presented with a purse containing $120 as token of esteem, the presentation being made by Miss Ethel Fredstrom, Rev. Clemens making a short response. The ladies served refreshments.

The pastor and his family leave Brainerd the first of October for Stillwater, where he has accepted the pastorate of a large church.

Rev. Clemens has been pastor of the Swedish Bethany church for the past four years and has labored hard to build up the church and has gained many new members. He has been instrumental in the building of a modern parsonage on the church property, corner Ninth and Maple streets South. He took an active interest in the Bromley campaign of last fall and his congregation and many friends in the city regret to see him leave Brainerd, but wish him every success in his new field of Christian labor.

MIGHT LAND UP IN MORGUE

At the Best It Would Be Hospital for Man Who Yelled "Hurrrah for the Kaiser!"

Two men talking on the rear platform of an East Tenth street car were discussing the poor service and how long it would take a person to get any place by depending on the city cars, when one of the men said that he had heard of a quick way to reach the city hospital.

He explained that while he was downtown, a few days before, he had overheard the conversation between a man who was evidently a stranger and another man of Irish descent.

"Could you tell me the quickest way to get to the city hospital?" inquired the stranger.

"Sure," said the man of Irish descent, "you walk one square east, turn to your right and go one square south. There you will find a recruiting station. Go in there and yell: 'Hurrrah for the kaiser!' and when you come to you will be in the city hospital."

The man who told the story said he thought that was one way of reaching the city hospital in record-breaking time, but his friend did not agree with him.

"Why don't you agree with me?" asked the first man. "Don't you think the plan a good one?"

"Oh, the plan is all right," replied his friend, "but I think the destination is all wrong. Any man going into a recruiting station and yelling: 'Hurrrah for the kaiser!' would make a quick trip somewhere, but not to the city hospital. I think he would break all records getting into the city morgue."—Indianapolis News.

ACROSS OCEAN IN AIRPLANE

Expert Is of Opinion That Successful
Flight Will Be Made Before
End of Year.

The most famous voyage in the history of the world was made in 1492. Columbus sailed from Spain, touched the Portuguese coast, paused at the Azores, and then drove across the uncharted seas until his jollyboats nosed the sands of a new world.

Another voyage that will shine in history beside that of Columbus will almost surely reverse the route of the great discoverer—from the American continent to Newfoundland, say, to the Azores, thence to Portugal and finally to France. But it will be made through the skies by airplane. And if there is anything in prophecy based on science it will be made this year.

At least this is the settled opinion of Maj. Gen. William S. Branner, controller general of equipment on the British air council. General Branner is now in Washington to help co-ordinate the effort of the allies in the air. His position as to the flight across the Atlantic is simply this: That it must be done some time in the present war, that it is already possible to do it, and that therefore it should be done now. Once the first flight is an accomplished fact he sees steadily growing fleets of huge planes making the trip as a regular part of the independent aerial offensive.—From Committee on Public Information.

At the Best Tonight

John R. Dickerson, F. R. G. S. in his letter to Dr. Hugh Galvin of London:

"... and here I found a land peopled with the best and the worst: The Oxford graduate on his homestead claim, side by side, with a renegade American later arrested for murder in the States; the genial Hudson-Bay factors with their ever-ready welcome to the stranger; the stoic-faced Indians whose moral life is so well guarded over by those wonderful men found wherever the finger of civilization has been pointed—the Jesuit Priests; but above all, what appealed to me, were the light-hearted young girls, children of the Canadian French, who laugh and jest with the stranger at the door and who wander alone singing through the dark, wolf-ridden forests, knowing no fear.

It is so strange then that here in this undeveloped country of plenty we should find the human emotions stripped of all pretense, and men and women standing clean and true, unaffected by the hypocritical veneer of social environment, with hearts of children, bodies of men, and souls that respond to the voice of religion as the pine-bough answers the breeze. Loving fiercely, hating wisely, their code becomes their law. And over the destinies of these adventurous people, whether it be upon the backs of their sturdy mounts, or swinging on the gee-poles behind their sled dogs, ever-present, ever-watchful, unquestioned in their stern interpretation of the law, you find His Majesty's greatest body of men, the rollicking, admiring, duty-loving Royal Northwest Mounted Police. I shall hate to leave them, these dear red-blooded men and women, and return again to my club, cafes and the voice of the city. I would that it were possible I might wait here amongst them for my end, loving as they love, fighting as they fight, hating as they hate, dying as they die with their last look upon life in the rosy glow of an Alberta morning, or in the cool clean moonlight of the day just passed. Such are the people of the far Canadian Northwest whose association in the last few months is bringing back to you a better man. . . ."

"Superstitious people will have something to talk about after seeing 'The Sign Invisible' tonight at the Best. There is an old French legend 'LaChasse Gallerie,' which still survives in the northland—for a brief spell on certain nights the spirits of the departed return—but they don't get off the screen.

Forgot the Laundry.

They were on an interurban car bound for the big city. One of them, the son of a banker, had been intrusted with a bundle containing $5,000 in bills. The bundle was wrapped in a newspaper. Being young, the heirs of the treasure fell to talking of girls and things and when they arrived at the station both got up and started away without the bundle.

"Hey, you fellows," a man who had been sitting back of them shouted. "Hey, boys, you forgot your laundry."

It need not be guessed that the boys double-backed back for the "laundry."

McKibbin's Hats

Oldest Living West Pointer.

General Horatio Gates Gibson, the oldest living graduate of West Point, veteran of the Mexican civil and Indian wars, has just celebrated his 91st birthday in good health and spirits.

Among the guests of the soldier on his birthday were a few surviving members of the Aztec Club, which was formed by officers of the service in the city of Mexico seventy-one years ago. There is only a squad of the original members of this club living. Gen. Gibson is one of them and is the organization's president.

It is probable that this veteran thought as a young soldier, after campaigning from Vera Cruz to the city of Mexico under the leadership of Gen. Winfield Scott, that the Mexican war was a good deal of a war. It is likely, also, after serving as an artillery chief through the campaigns from '61 to '65, that he thought the civil war was about the biggest thing in the shape of a war that ever happened or could happen. Today, this man of service, 91 years of age, is under the necessity of readjusting his earlier thoughts on the comparative magnitude of conflicts between nations.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

A lady telephoned the Dispatch about a soldier's letter she wished to have in print.

"Sure, send it down," was the answer at the Dispatch. "Tell your husband to bring it down."

"My husband doesn't deliver them right away," was the lady's response. "I can't just depend on him."

"Sort of a mail carrier," remarked the Dispatch man.

CHARGE FOR MOVING OR INSTALLING 'PHONE

The telephone company has received an order from the Postmaster General of the United States, under whose jurisdiction the telephone companies have been placed during the war, notifying it to charge for installing new telephones, and also to have subscribers pay the cost of moving their telephones.

Installation charges ordered are as follows:

Where the monthly rate is $2.00 or less, $5.00; where the rate is more than $2.00, but not exceeding $4.00 a month, $10.00, and where the rate is more than $4.00 a month, $15.

The charge to subscribers for moving telephones from one location to another will be the cost of labor and material necessary for making the change.

Twenty loyal citizens of Brainerd are today wearing neat little buttons bearing the symbols, "4MM4" the same being the official insignia of the Four Minute Men organization of this city, of which Fred T. Lincoln is chairman.

These pins arrived from Washington today and were distributed by the chairman to the following official family of the Four Minute Men:

R. R. Gould, Rev. J. J. O'Mahoney, Judge Walter F. Wieland, John A. Hoffbauer, Carl Zapffe, G. S. Swanson, Geo. A. Tracy, H. F. Michael, Rev. G. Phil. Sheridan, R. D. Stitzel, R. M. Sheets, A. J. Halsted, Mal D. Clark, Paul G. Clarkson, C. A. Allbright, D. D. Schrader, Dr. J. A. Thaber, Fred T. Lincoln, Henry L. Cohen and R. R. Wise.

The names of the different speakers are registered at Washington and the members are now under draft, subject to instructions from the chairman. They will be called upon to speak in the different Four Minute Men campaigns. Their subjects are assigned them from Washington.

They have recently concluded a campaign on the subject, "Where Did You Get Your Facts?" which was a movement to nail German lies and propaganda.

The Four Minute Men organization has become a powerful influence in carrying the word of the government to the people direct and the Brainerd organization numbers in its list some forceful, able

New Invention.

A recent invention which has not been marketed as yet, but is reported to be a great success, is an electric roller for use in making the much-needed five-yard rolls of bandages. The new device is not only a great time and labor saver, but requires little practice to learn to operate. The rollers operated by hand, as they have been heretofore, require skill and training to operate them successfully, and the work is strenuous. By rolling electrically the operator is able to keep both hands on the bandage, while in hand operation one hand guides the roll or bandage and the other operates the roller.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrhal which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrhal Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrhal Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

General Gorgas Watches Re-education of American Soldiers Wounded in the Trenches

ERADICATE BILLBUGS BY PLOWING IN FALL

Serious Injury Done to Corn Planted in Low Ground.

Young Insects Live Inside Stems or Roots of Plants and Do Much Harm by Eating Out Central Portion of the Stalk.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The billbugs, snout-beetles, or "elephant bugs," as they are variously termed, are hard-shelled beetles which live normally in sedges, rushes, or the large wild grasses found growing in moist, low ground. Corn planted in river and creek bottoms or other low places, especially in the southern portions of the country, is liable to injury by billbugs. The grubs, or young of these beetles live inside the stems or roots of plants, and their injuries to corn usually are caused by their eating out the central portion of the stalk, thereby stunting and seriously injuring the corn plants. The adult beetles also injure the corn, for they puncture the growing point or "bud" of the plant.

Some kinds of billbugs are eliminated easily by rotation of crops. Corn should not be followed by corn in the you may use white hellebore, one ounce to three gallons of water. This will kill the slugs and do no harm to people who eat the fruit.

The same results may be secured by spraying with a strong tobacco decoction, such as Black Leaf 40, one part in 800 parts of water.

A thorough dusting with slaked lime, ashes or fine road dust will usually be successful in removing the slugs from the leaves.

BULL ASSOCIATIONS

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The bull association cannot give you something for nothing, but it can furnish you a share in from three to five $300 bulls for $50. These bulls cannot increase the production of the cows you now have, but they may double the production of the daughters.

The daughters of association bulls and grade cows can never be registered; but in every other respect they may be the equal of purebreds.

The bull association cannot compel you to join, but if you do join you will soon own a better herd and become a better farmer.

Fate's Playfulness.

A lean young infantryman, hurried across France with his regiment, was flung into a fight near Chateau Thierry with scanty sleep and short rations, went over a crest with the first wave of assault, emerged from a mix-up with a German bayonet none the worse except for a tear in the seat of his breeches, escaped by a miracle every blast in the murderous crossfire of German machine guns and finally came out one of the few unscratched in his platoon. He dropped on the ground, doubly thankful for the promise of a few moments' rest, but he bounded up again in the agony of his first wound. His face had landed in a bunch of nettles.—Stars and Stripes.

For this purpose they use a sort of book, or ledger, in which the customer's name and address, and other information pertaining thereto, are recorded.

Since most of the purchasers are women, it can be imagined that the grocer's task, sometimes, is not so easy, but the women, realizing that the information must be given, have graciously accorded it.

No that is all.

Grocers do tell that they get more information than they have any need for. Here's how it is:

"They insist on telling me all about Little Johnny, and what little Susie is doing today, and—why, say, since we started this here sugar record, we know the complete family history of all our customers."

Now what do you know about that?

Fears Financial Panic.

Washington, Sept. 17.—A financial panic unless the revenue bill is revised was predicted by S. L. Swarts, counsel for the National Drygoods Association, testifying before the Senate

Finance Committee. "Unless proper provision is made for a decline in the present abnormally high merchandise values, a commercial and financial panic will result," he stated. "A grave danger confronts the merchants and manufacturers on account of present abnormal values which the present bill fails to take into account."

GOT THE BANANAS

Patriotic American in Border Town Did Extra "Bit."

How Marching Boys in Olive Drab Got Delicacy Almost Under the Eyes of the Discipline-Loving Sergeant

It is midnight. In the border town across the river the populace has gone to bed. The streets are deserted and silent save for the measured tread of the occasional policeman on his nocturnal rounds. But the lights are still glowing in the railway station on the water front, their brightness intensified by the enveloping gloom.

A train of Pullmans rumbles in from the ferry dock with a great jangling of bells and creaking of wheels as the brakes take hold. In the stillness of the night the racket is magnified a thousandfold, but the town slumbers on.

Above the incessant clang of the locomotive bell and the hiss of escaping steam there comes to the ears of the wayfarer from the States a sound that instantly claims his attention—the rhythmic tramp, tramp, of feet, hundreds, thousands of them it seems, as the faint staccato becomes a muffled roar. There is no resisting its lure. The wayfarer turns in his tracks and waits.

"Left—turn!" rings out the crisp command close at hand and, with wheel-like precision, a column of marching men in the familiar olive drab rolls into view around the corner.

"Yanks, sure as I'm alive!" exclaims the man from the States as he falls into step and follows along the sidewalk.

Yes, Yanks—Uncle Sam's own doughboys on their way to Berlin via the western front, and out to lumber up and get a breath of fresh air while a new engine is being hooked up.

On they come, alert, keen-eyed fellows fresh from the training camps, splendid Americans all, and eager for a brush with the Hun.

Still the town slumbers—it is accustomed to such sights; but to the American, taken unaware, it is an inspiring thing.

A thorough dusting with slaked lime, ashes or fine road dust will usually be successful in removing the slugs from the leaves.

CALAIS LONG FAMOUS PORT

Three Nations Have Held City Which the Germans Are Now So Eager to Possess.

Since the beginning of the war Calais has been an objective of the German army. It is a familiar name to those who have crossed the 26 miles of nasty choppy water that lies between Calais and the English port of Dover.

Fifty years ago Calais was regarded as a fortress of the first class, but it would now probably not be able to defend itself many days against modern artillery. In 1346, after the battle of Crecy, Calais was besieged by the English King Edward III, holding out resolutely by the bravery of Jean de Vienne. Its inhabitants were saved from the cruel fate with which Edward menaced them by the devotion of seven of its chief citizens, who in turn were themselves spared at the prayer of Queen Philippa, this event having been commemorated in a widely known historical painting.

Calais remained in the hands of the English until 1558, when it was taken by the duke of Guise, at the head of 30,000 men, from an ill-provided English garrison only 800 strong, after a siege of seven days. This loss led to the remark of an English queen, who declared that when she died the word "Calais" would be found imprinted on her heart. Calais was held by the Spaniards from 1596 to 1598, but was restored to the French by treaty.

On the chalk cliffs of Dover stands a gun, several centuries old, on which is engraved the doggerel: "Feed me well and keep me clean, and I'll send a ball to Calais green." This was fiction, but modern artillery could easily accomplish the feat.

are lightened when she turns to the right medicine. If her existence is made gloomy by the chronic weakness, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex, she will find relief and emancipation from her troubles in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It's a powerful, invigorating tonic and nerve which was discovered and used by an eminent physician for many years, in cases of "female complaints" and weaknesses; for young girls just entering womanhood; for women at the critical time of life; in bearing-down sensations, pains, ulceration, inflammation, and kindred ailments, the "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine put up without alcohol—ingredients in wraps.

DULUTH, MINN.—"I am a great believer in Dr. Pierce's medicines. I have taken 'Favorite Prescription' for weakness peculiar to women and found it very beneficial. I had taken other medicines for this ailment but did not get any relief. I also use the 'Pleasant Pellets' for disorders of stomach, biliousness and headaches—there is
